The attention of every policy holder is called to the following:

By vote at the annual meeting of the Company held January 7, 1901, policy holders wishing to remain away longer than thirty days may keep the insurance on their property good, by applying to the secretary for a permit to leave premises unoccupied for such times as they may specify paying for the same five cents per month for every one hundred dollars for which they are insured.

The cash premium for permits has been reduced from five to three cents per month.

REPORT OF THE TRUSTEES OF THE SANBORNTON PUBLIC LIBRARY

For the Year Ending December 31, 1944

In spite of the fact that we have had no regular librarian for over a year, the library has been kept open almost as usual with the aid of different substitutes. We are pleased to report that beginning January 1, Mrs. Burton Libby will serve as Librarian. We believe that a higher salary for the librarian may be necessary and so recommend an increase.

Circulation for the year has kept above the average with an increase in the number of non-fiction and magazine readers. Mrs. Alice Higgins has charge of the Bay branch and Mrs. Nellie Atwood of the Gaza branch. The State Bookmobile leaves books regularly at all three libraries and this is a great advantage especially with the Juvenile books which are difficult to buy at present. The State Library has loaned many books to us which we feel unable to purchase. The usual amount alloted to book purchase has secured less books than formerly.

The library building is in need of some repairs which will be made as soon as labor is available. It is hoped that it may be painted this year.

We wish to thank all who have contributed in any way to the public library. We would especially mention Mrs. E. M. Prouty who for several years has donated to our reading table "The Reader's Digest" and "The National Geographic Monthly."

REPORT OF SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS

Sanbornton has had only three schools since September: The Bay, Gaza and the Grammar school room at the Square. There were so few pupils in the 8th grade and so few below the 6th, it seemed best to transport these few and maintain a 6th and 7th grade room at the Square.

This arrangement has worked out fairly well. It has meant more transportation but one less teacher.

The number of pupils enrolled in the three schools September 30, 1944 was 68.

Each year the total number of pupils grows a little less. The number attending Junior and Senior high schools, out of town remains large.

It might be well to consider organizing a Junior high school in part, if not completely so. This would mean keeping your 7th, 8th, and 9th grade at home, saving one year of tuition now being for 9th grade pupils in other schools. The cost would be but little, if any more, than it costs now to maintain the 7th and 8th grade organization, under normal conditions.

The cost of tuition is on the increase because of the increased cost of teachers and all equipment and supplies used in the high schools. There will be very few, if any, high school in this vicinity charging less than $100 for tuition.

The shortage of teachers is still acute, indeed critical. We are offering higher salaries for teachers, but war work jobs are offering far more. At the present time it appears that the shortage of teachers next September will be more acute than ever. Sanbornton, so far, has been able to secure teachers for its schools. We trust it will continue to be as successful next year. One new teacher was secured this year, Mrs. Agnes Shaw, who has had the Gaza school, and commuted each day from Salisbury.

The cost of education everywhere is increasing. Sometimes, I presume, it is wondered if the cost is not excessive for so few pupils. If we look at education as a wholly local matter, effecting only the few we have each year, and estimate its value wholly, and only upon what it has cost for eight years' service to each individual, and that the value of this service ends at the 8th grade, then the cost of education might well be considered excessive. But education given in our local schools must be looked upon with a far broader conception.

Take it this way. Every child we educate today is to have a part in determining the character of a new generation. That child's descendants, each of them, will have a part in shaping successive generations, and so on from generation to generation. It has been estimated that one person may average to have 1024 direct descendants in ten generations. If we give a boy today a background of education and that background is transmitted through his descendants generation after generation, each acquiring an educational background for his generation, then we are building in our school rooms today, through each individual, a background not only for the one individual but for the succession of his or her descendents.

It is ignorance that has brought troubles to individuals and destruction to nations throughout the world. Education must be the means of counteracting the evil effects of ignorance.

Educating one boy today may have its influence as far reaching as that 1024th descendent.
